

Tyler Technologies Named to Forbes Best Employers for Diversity List

The highest scoring 500 companies were awarded Best Employers for Diversity

PLANO, Texas (Jan. 17, 2019) – Tyler Technologies Inc. (NYSE: TYL) was recently named to Forbes’ Best Employers for Diversity list for 2019. The list recognized 500 companies for their representation of diversity in their U.S. operations. This is the second year for the list to come out and the first time Tyler received this recognition.

“We work hard to create a positive environment where our more than 4,600 employees feel welcomed and included,” said Lynn Moore, president and chief executive officer for Tyler Technologies. “Our team promotes acceptance, respect and collaboration across diverse perspectives, and this recognition is a tremendous honor.”

The list was compiled from an independent online survey conducted by Statista that is based on a sample of 50,000 American employees working for firms or institutions with 1,000 or more employees. The survey included questions on age, gender equality, ethnicity, disability, sexual orientation, and general diversity. The survey also considered diversity among top executives and key performance indicators (KPI).

The companies awarded Best Employers for Diversity in 2019 represent a variety of industries such as technology, transportation, media, health care, education, and retail.
